2022 Annual Newsletter & Inquiry Packet

A Note from the General Manager

After a challenging but successful 2021 summer, we are looking forward to welcoming guests in 2022 and celebrating RDC's 125th anniversary. Our success and reason to celebrate would not be possible without the love and support of our RDC family. Thanks to our board of directors for their ongoing support and strategic guidance as we navigate our second season of operations with COVID-19 still present in our daily lives.

Our goal remains to provide a safe environment for all our guests and staff while returning to some traditions that guests look forward to each year. We will continue to follow federal, state, and local health guidelines in addition to the recommendations from our board of directors as we develop our plans and safety protocols for the 2022 season.

We will begin booking reservations on February 15 and, at this time, our season will run from June 1 through September 5, Labor Day weekend. We are actively searching for additional employees to join our team to extend guest reservations and our groups and conference season through September 18. If you or someone you know would like to lend us a hand, please check the staffing page at the end of this newsletter. Keeping safety at the forefront of our 2022 season, we have also decided again to rent Greenwood Lodge and Long House in their entirety. See 2022 Rates.

Both Rockywold and Deephaven Dining Halls will be open, offering traditional seating with an extended two-hour serving time for each meal. In addition, take-out containers will be available for those wishing to enjoy their meals outside the dining hall.

We will offer full daily housekeeping and outside crew services. If you prefer a lower-contact experience and would like to opt out of any portion of these services, you may notify our office staff at any time.

Our Wee Camper program for 3-5-year-olds will also return and be available Monday-Friday mornings.

We will continue to request a point person be designated for each cottage and ask that all guests and staff wear a mask or other face-covering in any public indoor spaces, regardless of vaccination status. We strongly recommend that all our guests obtain the COVID-19 vaccine, booster, and a negative test before coming to Camp.

With the evolving nature of this pandemic, our policies and procedures are subject to change. We will communicate these changes by email and encourage you to visit our website at RDCsquam.com for further details and important updates before your arrival.

In closing, I want to express my deep appreciation for all of our guests, our staff, and board members I've had the opportunity to know and work with. As the search committee continues its work to find my successor as general manager, I've reflected on the unique and extraordinary place that is RDC. I will cherish the memories and relationships from the past thirty years. Thank you all.

Kathy Wheeler, General Manager, on behalf of the entire RDC Management Team

Forever Fund

In October of 2020, Camp launched the RDC Forever Fund. This fund was created in response to an outpouring of support from our guests and a desire to help RDC weather the challenges of the COVID-19 pandemic and the 2020 closure. Contributions to the fund are being used to help maintain Camp traditions and address the revenue gap caused by Camp's closure. Please visit our website for more information on how you can contribute to the RDC Forever Fund.

Becoming an RDC Shareholder

Guests occasionally ask us about the possibility of purchasing RDC shares. Such opportunities do exist, and anyone with interest is encouraged to contact Becky at 603-968-3313 or visit RDCsquam.com for further information.

RDC Charitable Giving

The Squam Environmental Preservation Fund (SEPF) was created in 1997 to honor RDC's Centennial and to offer a way for our community to make tax-deductible gifts that support the long-term conservation of the lake we all love.

RDC's Board of Directors makes annual grants from the SEPF to initiatives of conservation organizations working in the Squam region that sustain the natural beauty and ecological health of the Squam Lakes and their watersheds. Since the creation of this fund, the SEPF has awarded 32 grants totaling $192,500. In 2021 the SEPF awarded two grants. A $10,000 grant was awarded to the Loon Preservation Committee to help continue its long-term research focused on the health of loons nesting on Squam Lake. For more information on this important research go to the LPC website at www.loon.org/squam-lake-study.php. A second grant of $6,000 was made to the NH Audubon to help build their larger MOTUS regional tracking network that can track individual birds, butterflies, and bats as they migrate. The SEPF grant was to install one MOTUS telemetry tracking station in the Squam watershed, which is one of 50 in New England and one of 900 in the MOTUS global network. For more information about MOTUS and how it tracks migrating birds, butterflies and bats go to <https://www.nhaidubon.org/conservation/motus/>.

The SEPF fund is managed for RDC by the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation as a donor-designated fund. A history of awarded SEPF grants is posted on our website at rdcsquam.com/sepf-history.html. RDC generally contributes 5% of our Store and Zodiac revenue to the SEPF fund.

To the members of the RDC community who contributed more than $357,988 to the SEPF over the past 25 years, we thank you. A list of donors for 2021 appears on our website at RDCsquam.com/squam-environmental-preservation-fund/. If you wish to contribute to SEPF you can do so online or by mailing your donation. If you want to contribute online, go to RDCsquam.com/sepf.html. Mail checks to Squam Environmental Preservation Fund, c/o NH Charitable Foundation, 37 Pleasant Street, Concord, NH 03301. If you'd like to make a stock gift, please contact Amy Langille at NHCF.

2021 Bald Eagle Report

The Squam Lake Bald Eagle pair had a tough start to 2021. The nest they used on Loon Island in 2020 completely fell apart by the end of that breeding season, so they had to start from scratch. We also had a new female in the pair. In the fall of 2020, our old female (twenty-one years old) was found dead on an island on Lake Wickwas. Her injuries suggested she died from wounds she received in a fight with another female. The day after she died, I saw a new (victorious) female sitting with the male on their favorite perch tree on Long Island. In the eagle world, there is no sentimentality. No doubt a young female decided to challenge our old girl, and the male let them get on with it. He was waiting on the perch tree for whoever won. The pair didn't do any nest building in the fall (which many do), so when the 2021 breeding season rolled around, they had a lot to do. The male was determined to build on the same tree and brought stick after stick to the white pine. His attempts were blown down by the strong late-winter winds time and time again. Mid-March came and went, and still no sign of incubation. Finally, by early April, they had a good-sized nest constructed, and the pair were still mating, but no eggs were laid. They just took too long to get their act together. The pair remained around the lake and the nest stayed together, so hopefully they have a better base to start with in 2022.

Building Committee Report

Good progress has been made on the significant, multi-year septic project. Part one of the construction work—installing a new underground collection and pre-treatment tanks outside of each dining hall—was completed in the spring of 2021 before Camp opened for the season. Part two began right after Camp closed this fall: The existing lagoon treatment system and adjacent recharge basin were drained, and new septic tanks were placed in the empty lagoon pit. These buried treatment tanks will pump the effluent to a new underground dispersal field, beneath newly rebuilt outer courts, for the third and final step in the wastewater treatment process. Work will continue in the new year as soon as weather conditions permit and will be substantially completed before Camp opens for the 2022 season. Project completion and close-out tasks will happen in the fall of 2022. The project is on schedule, and its upcoming completion in 2022 will ensure compliance with state regulatory requirements for the foreseeable future.

Other capital projects in 2022 are quite limited and include: food service infrastructure improvements at the ball field supporting its continued use as a satellite dining location, roof repairs on a couple of buildings, and new entrance doors at the Deeplaven Dining Hall.

We all depend on and benefit from the year-to-year capital improvements at RDC, including the less glamorous ones like septic upgrades. Many people work hard to make these projects happen, especially Camp's longtime design professional, David Driscoll, and General Manager Kathy Wheeler, who led those efforts. Thank you Dave, Kathy, and the team!

2021 Loon Report

It was a challenging year for Squam's loons, a year filled with a mix of encouraging and disappointing news for the lake's loon population. In encouraging news, the lake gained a new pair of loons, bringing the population to 14 pairs. Ten of those pairs nested—a good rate of nesting—and hatched eight chicks. This rate of chicks hatched is quite a bit higher than the average of recent years, so that was an encouraging number as well.

With eight chicks hatched, I hoped a good number of chicks would fledge. Unfortunately, only three of those chicks survived to fledge at the end of summer. This resulted in a chick survival rate that was similar to the average of recent years. Overall, the average rate of breeding success on Squam from 2008-2021 remains less than half the statewide average.

Adult loons struggled as well in 2021, as Squam's loon population suffered the loss of two of its long-time banded adult loons. One adult died for reasons that are unclear. A second adult died from avian malaria. This is now the second Squam loon in the last three years to have died of this emerging disease in loons, one that is likely linked to a changing climate.

The challenges facing Squam's loons as a whole were shared by the loon pair around RDC. Happily, the same pair as last year returned to the waters of RDC, including the old female—now at least ~29 years old! The pair nested, but, sadly, their egg did not hatch. A week after the expected hatch date, when it was clear the egg would not be successful, the egg ended up in the water and the pair abandoned the nest. Working under state and federal permits, I collected the egg for the Loon Preservation Committee's (LPC) research.

LPC tested the RDC female's inviable egg from the 2020 breeding season for contaminants, and the results were concerning. We have a remarkable time series of contaminant data for this female, with her inviable eggs from 1998, 2010, and 2020 all tested. Unfortunately, her contaminant levels have increased across all chemical classes for which we test, with the exception of PFAS (stain repellants, etc.). Her levels of PCBs, flame retardants, and chlordane (a pesticide) all either doubled or nearly doubled since 2010. Her levels of DDE (a breakdown product of DDT) and dioxins/furans (industrial byproducts) increased substantially as well. LPC will continue to research these contaminants in Squam's loons and their potential effects on the loon population. For more information, please see LPC's recently-released report on contaminants in loon eggs across the state (www.loon.org/eggreport).

LPC will continue working to understand and reverse the declines in Squam's loon population. As we work to restore a healthy population of loons to Squam Lake, we are very grateful to the RDC community and the Squam Environmental Preservation Fund for your support of Squam's loons and the work of LPC—Thank You! All best wishes to the RDC community!

“A Family Camp Since 1897”

Help Plan Our 125th Anniversary Recognition

The year 2022 marks our 125th anniversary and the rich history of RDC that began with one cottage, a dining room, and a kitchen with a tent roof! We envision a season-long celebration that invites guests to share their reflections on the Camp's history, RDC's role in their lives, and vision for the next 125+ years. For so many, RDC is deeply woven into our own family histories, whether we've been coming for a short time or multiple generations. As we recognize this milestone of RDC and Camp's place in our lives, there's much to celebrate and much to look forward to.

The board of directors is forming a committee to help create this season-long interactive celebration and looking for folks who'd like to be involved in leading and planning it. If interested, reach out to Patty Steinwedell, Psteinwedell@att.net.

Guiding RDC for the next 125+ Years

Join our Professional Skills Database

From time to time, the board of directors reaches out to contacts we know have professional experience in certain areas. We'd like to formalize and grow our contact lists to include guests and shareholders who might be willing to assist the board on occasion in an advisory capacity.

If you have a professional skill that you are willing to share as the board prepares for the next 125 years at RDC, please email Betsy Komjathy, Betsy_Komjathy@yahoo.com.

Thank you in advance for your interest and possible participation in this initiative.

RDC Boathouse Update

Boats and related equipment are in very high demand, and we have placed orders for new boats and equipment early, hoping to receive them in time for the guest season. Our stand up paddleboards (SUPs) are made by SIC and the model is the Tao Surf, which is a great blend of durability and performance. This is the same board with new graphics as the Bic Sports Performer, which has been in the rental fleet since 2019.

We are continuing to phase out the Ocean Kayak Nalu 12.5 sit-on-top kayaks and are replacing them with Ocean Kayak Malibu 11.5, which is more of a sit-on-top kayak and less of a hybrid SUP. The pedal kayaks continue to grow in popularity because they are very well designed and comfortable for more extended tours of the lake. Of course, we still have plenty of recreational, touring, and double kayaks as well as canoes, rowboats, Hydrobikes, and Sunfish sailboats.

Please see the website for more information on the RDC Boat Rental Fleet.

Our Dress Code Has Relaxed, But We Still Have One!

Over the last several decades, the dining room dress code has become more and more relaxed in keeping with general trends in society. Most guests have appreciated the greater informality, but recently there have been occasions when the level of casualness has, in the minds of many guests, become too great. We want to remind all of our guests of the RDC dress code and ask for your cooperation following these simple guidelines: No caps, tank tops, bathing suits, or bare feet at any meal. Casual sportswear is acceptable for breakfast and lunch, but the more appropriate dress is recommended for dinner (non-athletic shorts, pants, collared shirt for men; dresses, skirts, pants, non-athletic shorts for women).

WiFi in the Woods

While an "unplugged" RDC is a lovely concept for many, it is impractical for some of our guests. As with many aspects of Camp, balancing tradition and practicality is key. RDC offers WiFi services, however these services are not 100% reliable and do not support high-volume digital streaming. RDC's purpose is to serve as a vacation community where people of all ages can enjoy the company of family and friends, and refresh their minds and bodies in a place of great beauty. We invite you to play, explore and rediscover the joys of life beyond digital screens.

Reservations Requests & Information

2022 Reservation Requests

Our reservation team of Alana, Becky, and Lucy are looking forward to welcoming you back to RDC for the 2022 season.

We will be able to serve you more efficiently if your form is filled out completely and clearly. Newspapers must be ordered at least seven days prior to your arrival; golf cart rentals are available only for guests with mobility issues; weekly boat rentals may be reserved prior to your arrival; and daily rentals may be requested upon your arrival.

To request a reservation, please complete the enclosed Reservation Request Form or go online to RDCsquam.com/reservations. Reservations are booked according to seniority, and to give yourself the best opportunity to receive the cottages and dates of your choice your request must be received before FEBRUARY 15.

You will find all of our 2022 materials at RDCsquam.com, including floor plans for all our cottages and lodges. Please give us a call if you have any questions.

2022 Reservation Information

We are working towards transitioning back to a “normal” RDC season, keeping a safe environment for our guests and team members as our top priority. While we plan to welcome you back with the usual hospitality, we will still monitor the coronavirus (COVID-19) situation closely and make necessary adjustments as needed.

At this time, our regular guest season will begin Saturday, June 11, and end Monday, September 5.

The following are other adjustments and reminders for our 2022 season.

Cottage Point Person

We will be asking for a point person from each cottage. This will be used for communicating information to guest families and contact tracing if needed. Please indicate your point person on your Reservation Request Form.

Arrival and Departure times

Arriving guests should not enter their accommodations before registering at the office.

Check-in is after 5 p.m.

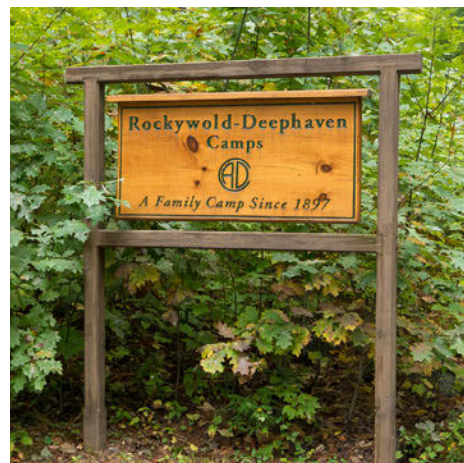

Check-out is no later than 10 a.m.

Dining

Both Rockywold and Deeplaven dining halls will be open, offering traditional seating with a two-hour serving time for each meal. In addition, take-out containers will be available for those wishing to enjoy their meals outside the dining hall. We encourage anyone of high risk to arrive during the beginning of each meal hour where there may be less traffic.

Daily Visitors

For the health and safety of our RDC community, we strongly discourage daily visitors to Camp for the summer of 2022. A daily visitor is anyone outside the family unit assigned to a cottage or accommodation. Our regular guests have been asked to comply with RDC’s health and safety guidelines before their arrival, and daily visitors would put both our guests and staff at risk. We appreciate your cooperation.

Lodges to be Reserved by the Week Again in 2022

As we plan for the upcoming season, we are continuing to keep safety at the forefront of our decision-making. We will again rent both Greenwood Lodge and Long House, in their entirety, at a weekly 12-person rate of $16,000 per week. Greenwood Lodge can sleep a maximum of 20 guests, and Long House sleeps a maximum of 24. Regular overage rates will apply. Reservation requests for the lodges will be filled through the usual reservation process.

At this time, the Rock Office Rooms will not be offered as guest accommodations.

RDC's Reservation Process:

We frequently receive multiple requests for the same accommodations in the same time periods, especially in July and August. Potential conflicts are resolved on the basis of priority and seniority (defined below).

In order to receive early consideration for an accommodation, we must receive a written request prior to February 15. Requests received after February 15 will be honored but only after filling all those received before the deadline. Typically, availability becomes quite limited as the summer approaches. We ask that all guests use the Reservation Request Form on the reverse side of this paper.

When reservation bookings begin on February 15, the order in which reservations are placed is as follows:

- 1) All "priority" guests.
- 2) Guests with the most "seniority credit" to guests with the least seniority credit.

(Additional credit is given to guests staying for two or more consecutive weeks in the same accommodation.)

Priority:

Guests who have reserved the same accommodation during the same time period for three consecutive years earn what is called a priority. A guest having priority on a particular accommodation will be given the first option to reserve that accommodation for the appropriate time period.

Seniority Credit:

Guests receive one seniority credit for each year in which they were guests in camp for one week or longer after the age of 25. This credit applies whether or not the individual has paid an RDC bill. No credit is given for partial-week stays. An additional credit is granted to guests who stayed at RDC prior to age 25, current RDC shareholders receive one additional credit, and a further credit is granted to those guests who served as an employee for at least one full season. A maximum of one seniority credit per season is allowed for any individual.

- If the accommodation requested is available, an offer letter will be sent to you with a request for a 20% deposit. If we receive your deposit within 30 days from the date of the offer letter your reservation is confirmed.
- If the accommodation requested is not available, a staff member will attempt to contact you to discuss alternatives. Please make sure we can reach you in February and early March by giving us current work and home phone numbers, e-mail addresses and an alternative contact person should you be away!
- If the accommodation requested is not available, and no alternatives exist, you will be notified and put on a waiting list if you wish.

Cancellation Policy:

- If a cancellation is made prior to May 15, 50% of the deposit will be refunded.
- Reservations canceled after May 15 and prior to a month of expected arrival will lose the full 20% deposit.
- Reservations canceled within one month of expected arrival will be responsible for 50% of the total bill if the resulting vacancy is not filled.
- Reservations canceled within two weeks of expected arrival will be responsible for 100% of the total bill if the resulting vacancy is not filled.

Retreats & Workshops at RDC

RDC partners with several organizations to host special events each summer during our early and late seasons. These events are open to the public. In addition to these great courses and instructors, RDC offers creative inspiration, lakeside accommodations, delicious meals, kayaking, hiking, canoeing, or just relaxing on the porch or dock between classes.

Yoga at Squam Lake: June 9 to June 12, Energize and nourish your body and soul with four days and three nights of fun, yoga, kayaking, amazing food, friendship, lakeside lodging, loon calls, hooting owls, hiking, massage, tai chi, crackling fires, and so much more. Join Katie O'Connell and Dragonfly Yoga Barn for their 10th annual Relax & Renew Retreat at RDC! Do as much or as little as you like! All activities are included in your fee except massage therapy, which is available at additional cost. Full details are posted at www.dragonflyyogabarn.com.

The first-ever Sacred Makers Soul Retreat for fiber artists and mixed media enthusiasts will take place June 1 to June 5 with ten teachers from various creative disciplines. Kiala and Damon Givehand are bringing their energy to RDC as seasoned retreat leaders and creatives who strive to gather MAKERS & MYSTICS for a life-affirming journey within. For four days, nestled in the woods and along the lake, participants will have the chance to gather and experience creative workshops designed to highlight and explore what is sacred about the act of creating. Classes on knitting, stitching, crocheting, writing, sketching, painting, weaving, and more will be offered at all levels. We hope you will come and create with us! Please sign up at sacredmakers.com.

#SquamWrites: The Squam Writes retreat will hold their sixth RDC retreat June 3 to 5. The craft-focused weekend is geared toward experienced writers. We offer workshops from successful, seasoned industry professionals with one-on-one critiques, personal support, and plenty of time to get words on the page. At #SquamWrites laughter spills into friendship and time together builds community. Join us! Registration opens on February 1. More information is available at tiny.cc/squamwrites.

Additional retreats and workshops may be scheduled for September. Please check our website for more information.

In addition to the tranquil setting designed to create bonds and foster a shared experience, RDC has a number of lovely buildings well suited to reunions, workshops, lectures, dances, and conferences. RDC is ideally suited for groups of people anywhere from 25 to 400.

If you know of other great conferences or events that would be a good fit for RDC, we'd like to help make it happen. Call Becky at 603-968-3313 or send an email to Becky@RDCsquam.com.
